

A cute cat with a little wave

Dark: new lines. Gray: earlier lines. Pale dashes: temporary guides to erase.

STEP 1

Outline the tilted head and its pointed ears. Include the first right cheek whisker and leave the neck opening.

STEP 2

Add the short left shoulder and body curve below the head. Leave the bottom open for the haunch.

STEP 3

Draw the rounded hind legs and both broad hind feet. Keep their bottoms along the same ground line.

STEP 4

Add the long resting foreleg and its front paw, between the hind feet. Leave the small toe details for later.

STEP 5

Draw the raised forearm beside the right cheek, joining its lower curve to the body. Leave its top open.

STEP 6

Round off the waving paw above that forearm. Keep a clear gap between the paw and the cheek.

STEP 7

Add the broad tail curling left behind the haunch. Stop its base where the hind foot hides it.

STEP 8

Place the two round eyes along the head tilt. Fill the dark pupils while preserving the white highlights.

STEP 9

Add the small nose between the eyes, then the short connection and two mouth curves below it.

STEP 10

Draw one inner-ear shape inside each pointed ear. Leave a visible border between the inner and outer edges.

STEP 11

Add two forehead stripes and two bands across the tail. Keep each marking inside its outline.

STEP 12

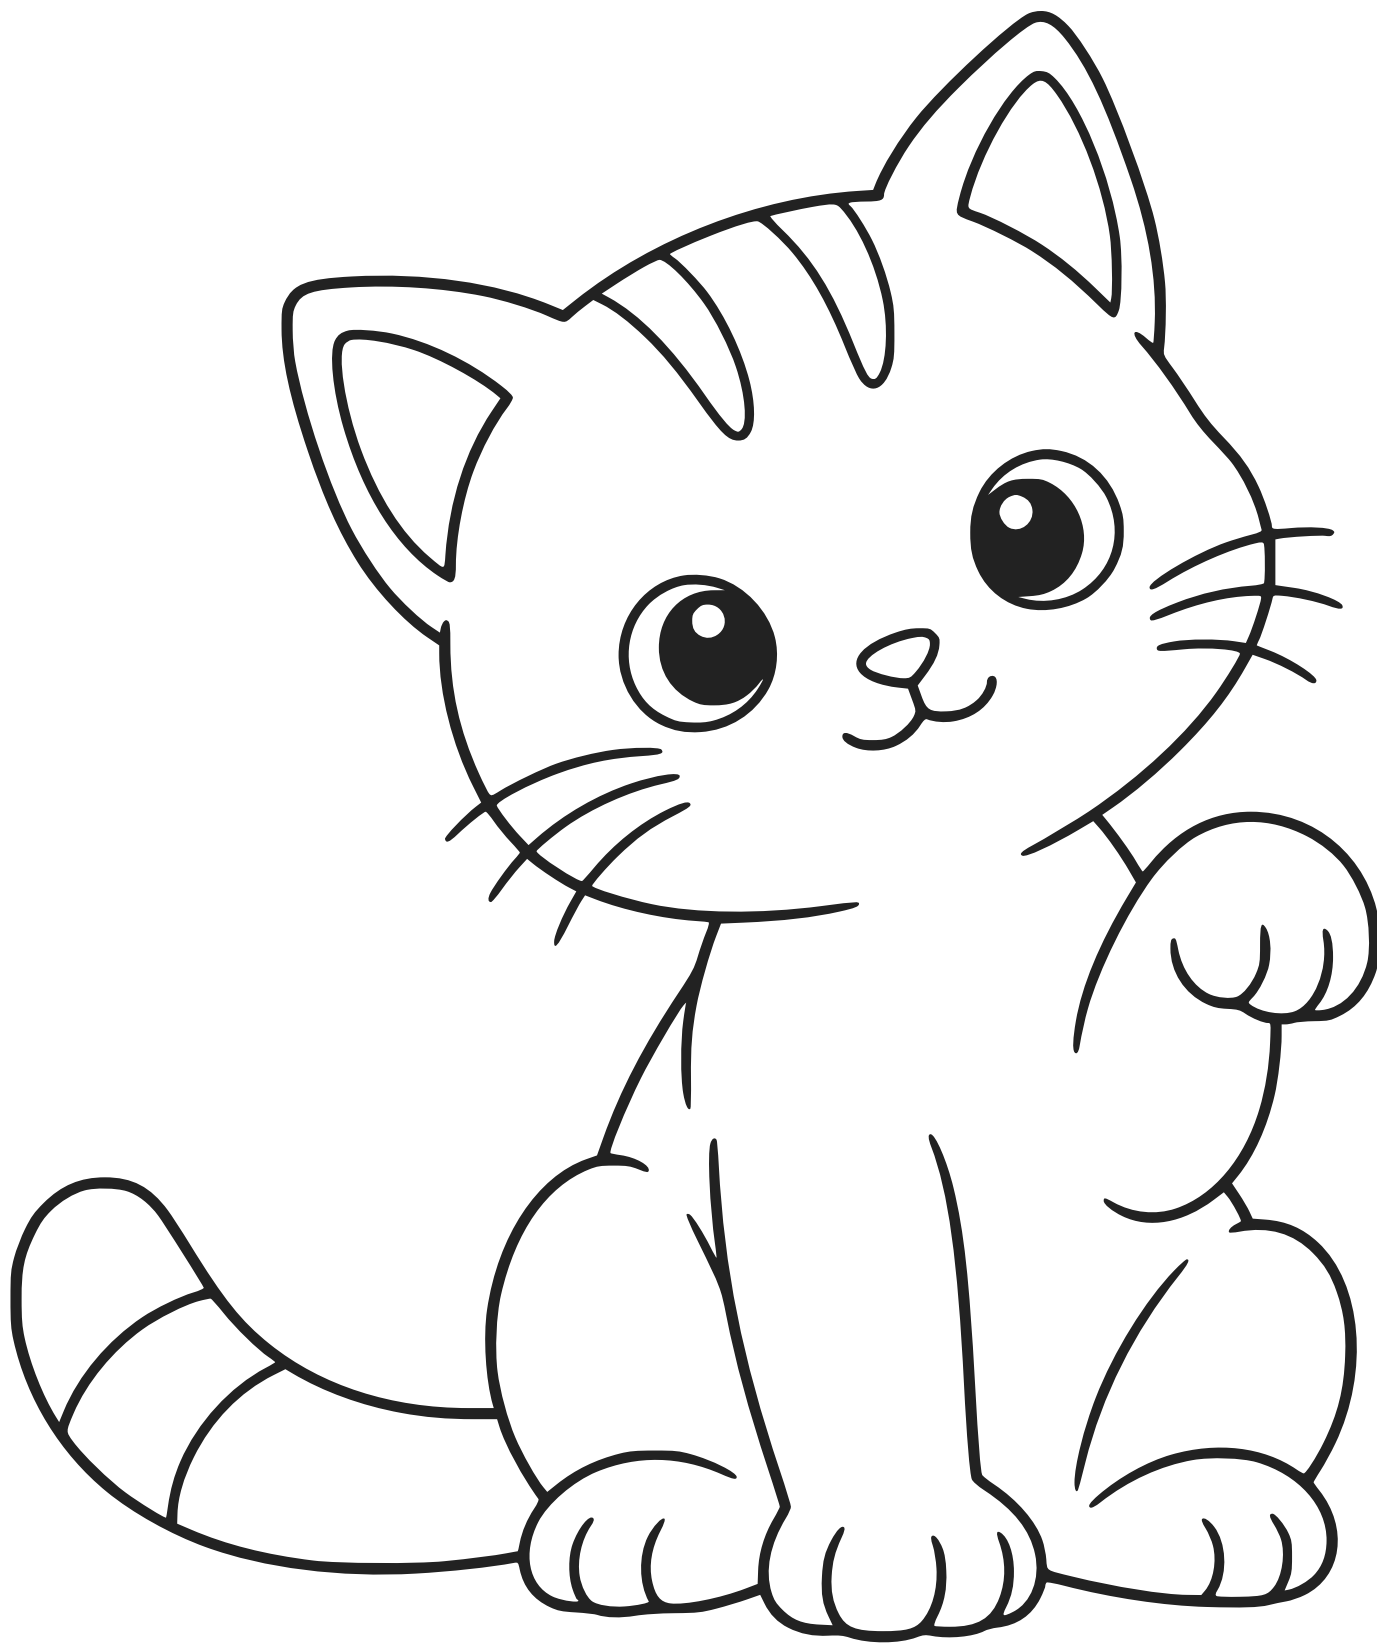

Finish with the other whiskers, the waving-paw divisions and short toe marks. Add these little details slowly.

Try this fix: Keep the eyes on the same tilted face line. The waving paw needs space beside the cheek; the tail must join behind the haunch.

Make it yours: Try a plain coat or two curved closed eyes while keeping the same seated pose.
