DRAW A LITTLE. MAKE IT YOURS.

A patterned butterfly

Easy | Paired wings with room for color

Dark lines are new. Gray lines were drawn in an earlier stage.

1. Draw a narrow body and a small round head above it.
2. Add a broad upper wing on each side, meeting behind the body.
3. Add two smaller lower wings, curving back toward the body.
4. Place one large patch inside each upper wing.
5. Add a smaller patch inside each lower wing.
6. Finish with curved antennae and a few small wing dots.

Try this fix: If the wings feel cramped, make the outer shapes larger before adding pattern.
