DRAW A LITTLE. MAKE IT YOURS.

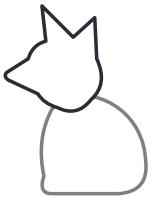
A fox sitting in profile

Moderate | A seated silhouette, a pointed muzzle and a resting tail

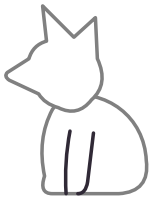
Dark lines are new. Gray lines were drawn in an earlier stage.

STEP 1

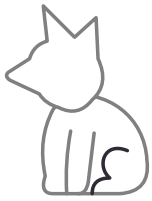
STEP 2



STEP 3



STEP 4



STEP 5

STEP 6

STEP 7

STEP 8

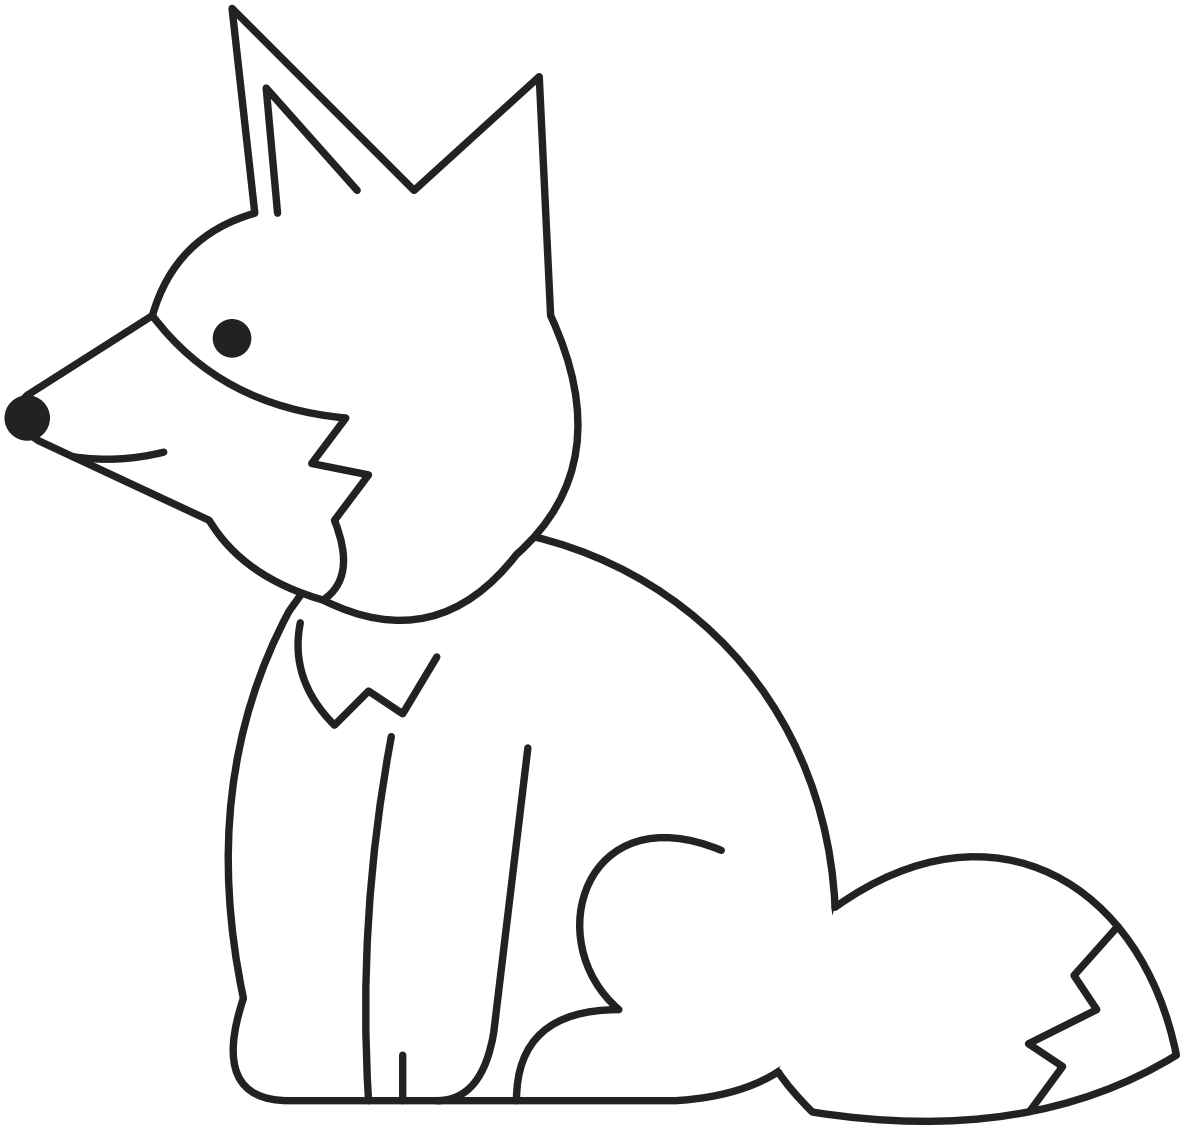
1. Draw a seated pear-shaped body, wider at the bottom, with a short flat base.
2. Add the pointed muzzle and two tall ears. Erase the body edge hidden behind the head.
3. Draw two lines down the chest to make one visible front leg and a rounded paw.
4. Add a curved haunch behind the front leg, ending at the base of the body.
5. Draw the bushy tail resting beside the fox. Erase the body edge hidden behind it.
6. Add a pale cheek patch and a small pointed chest patch.
7. Place one eye and a dark nose. Add a short mouth and one inner-ear line.
8. Divide the pale tail tip with a small zigzag and add one short toe mark.

Try this fix: Keep the chest upright and the paw directly below it. The haunch should be rounded, and the tail should rest on the same ground level as the body.

Trace once

Copy it

Change one feature

A fox sitting in profile


Choose your own palette. The large spaces are yours to fill.